

The Turner Series on Urban Development

Sponsored by UC Berkeley's Graduate School of Journalism, College of Environmental Design, Berkeley Program on Housing and Urban Policy, and BRIDGE Housing Corporation

- March 7: NIMBYs and the Press: The unholy alliance to keep new people out of old neighborhoods
- March 21: Design Dung: Our failure to communicate good and bad architecture
- April 4: Where Are the Poor? Why low-income people have no say in local development battles
- April 25: The New Math: Common misunderstandings in the economics of development

Events will be at the UC Berkeley School of Journalism Library, Main Floor, 121 North Gate Hall, Euclid and Hearst Avenues.

The Turner Series presents informal salon-style discussions with industry professionals, students, and interested community members. For more information, call (415) 377-0014, or email dslarskey@bridgehousing.com